Season
Opens

Dear Friends,

One of the challenges of putting together a new concert season is that it invariably falls on the heels of the previous season, where we did everything possible to make it the best one yet. So how do we keep upping the ante?

Our past season was bold, daring, audacious, and exclusive. We showcased some of the finest Canadian composers and artists, and provided innovative experiences that simply could not be found elsewhere. I have friends who have spent most of their lives in the orchestral world and they were astonished at what we achieved. I am very proud!

Incredibly, we can continue to scale these highs by thinking even bigger and swinging even harder, as we always do. The new Kingston Symphony season features music we have not performed for well over 10 years, including Bruckner's majestic Fourth Symphony and Handel's beloved Messiah. Classic masterpieces abound, and yet it is still hard to believe these epic top-shelf works exist. They are just so good. You will find them on nearly every single lineup in our new season.

For our Pops and Family concerts, I could not be happier with the programs we are bringing to you, including Murdoch Mysteries: Live in Concert and the return of the riotously funny children's entertainer, Al Simmons. Above all, we never forget that the Kingston Symphony is all about you, our beloved audience. That is the forge from which we muster every drop of our artistry to deliver performances that will stay with you long after the lights are back on.

Yours in music,

Evan Mitchell
Music Director

Bruckner Festival

We open our season with the power and majesty of Bruckner's Symphony No. 4. Arguably Bruckner's most beloved composition, the Romantic Symphony is a shining example of his incredible gift for drama, pacing, colour, and scope. There is no better way to kick off a new concert season than with our annual composer festival celebrating Bruckner's genius. Join us for what promises to be a monumental journey!

Masterworks One

Sept.
28

Sunday, 2:30 p.m.
The Isabel

Evan Mitchell,
Conductor

Bruckner:
Symphony No. 4

Epic

Mozart & Schubert

Soar through the sparkling heights of achievement of four masterful composers at their peak. From Rossini's delightful Overture to the Barber of Seville to the wonderful colour of Dvorak's Serenade for Winds, and from the opening of one of the greatest operas, Mozart's Don Giovanni to Schubert's tightly constructed Symphony No. 5, experience musical perfection you never thought possible.

Masterworks Two

Oct.
26

Sunday, 2:30 p.m.
The Isabel

Evan Mitchell,
Conductor

Rossini:
Overture to the
Barber of Seville

Dvorak: Serenade for Winds

Mozart: Overture to Don Giovanni

Schubert:
Symphony No. 5

Perfection

Handel's Messiah

Handel's Messiah is one of the most beloved pieces in all of music history, performed year after year to audiences the world over. This December, the Kingston Symphony takes on Handel's magnum opus alongside the Isabel Voices. Our intention, having not performed the Messiah for quite some time, is to return to this great tradition with fresh eyes, delivering a performance you won't forget.

Masterworks Three

Dec.
7

Sunday, 2:30 p.m.

The Isabel

Jacqueline
Woodley, Soprano

Adanya Dunn,
Mezzo Soprano

Scott Rumble, Tenor

David John Pike, Baritone

Evan Mitchell,
Conductor

The Isabel Voices

Darrell Christie,
Artistic Director

Handel: Messiah

Rejoice

Mendelssohn & Kalinnikov

Raise your spirits with an afternoon of uplifting music! Optimism is one of our Maestro's favourite emotions to express through performance. Join us for three incredible works which speak to the best in all of us: Kingston's own Marjan Mozetich's hopeful Postcards from the Sky, Felix Mendelssohn's joyous masterpiece for the violin, and Vasily Kalinnikov's astonishing First Symphony.

Masterworks Four

Jan.
11

Sunday, 2:30 p.m.
The Isabel

Andrew Wan,
Violin

Evan Mitchell,
Conductor

Mozetich:
Postcards from the Sky

Mendelssohn:
Violin Concerto in E minor

Kalinnikov:
Symphony No. 1

Optimism

Bach & Beethoven

A symphony concert can represent an opportunity to be entertained, lifted up, bathed in music, or simply to make a deep connection. Sometimes, music can also sweep you away, and that is the intention with this program. Richardson-Schulte's Step Up sets the tone, Bach's immaculate Orchestral Suite No. 3 brings wonder and heartache with its Air on the G String, and Beethoven's Eroica completes the journey with one of our Maestro's favourite orchestral works.

Masterworks Five

Feb.
8

Sunday, 2:30 p.m.
The Isabel

Bradley Thachuk,
Guest Conductor

Richardson-
Schulte: Step Up

Bach: Orchestral
Suite No. 3

Beethoven:
Symphony No. 3

Dramatic

Beethoven & Brahms

Be captivated by an afternoon of staggering musical genius featuring one true masterwork after another. Montgomery's Starburst is a call to honour the composers of orchestral music's Romantic Golden Age. Beethoven's Fourth Piano Concerto alongside Brahms' Fourth Symphony represent two titans at the peak of their power and artistry. It doesn't get any better than this!

Masterworks Six

Mar.
8

Sunday, 2:30 p.m.
The Isabel

Anna Sagalova,
Piano

Evan Mitchell,
Conductor

Montgomery:
Starburst

Beethoven: Piano
Concerto No. 4

Brahms:
Symphony No. 4

Enduring

Mahler 5

Our season concludes with an enduring and much-loved masterwork: Mahler's gargantuan Fifth Symphony. From the opening call of the trumpet through the intimate Adagietto to the adrenaline rush of the finale, Mahler's Symphony No. 5 caps off a tremendous season of virtuosity, artistry, and magic. We can't think of a finer way to finish our Masterworks Series.

Masterworks Seven

Apr.
26

Sunday, 2:30 p.m.
The Isabel

Evan Mitchell,
Conductor

Mahler:
Symphony No. 5

Power

On Stage and in the Community

As the only professional orchestra between Toronto and Ottawa, the Kingston Symphony enriches our region through live music that inspires, educates, and connects. Your support enables us to:

Provide weekly group lessons and mentorship to talented young musicians through the Kingston Youth Orchestra, Kingston Youth Strings, and Kingston A-Strings.

63

Teach families and children about orchestral music through our Discover the Symphony program in libraries around the city.

Share 19 world-class performances each season, right here at home.

Inspire the next generation of music lovers through our Symphony Education Partnership, reaching over 2,000 children annually.

Offer Relaxed Performances, designed to be welcoming to people in the Disability and Neurodiverse communities.

Distribute hundreds of complimentary tickets to people from equity seeking groups through our Share the Music program.

Share the joy of live music with seniors in retirement and long-term care homes through our Harmony at Home program.

Something's Fishy and it's Al Swimmins...make that Al Simmons: a tour-de-force of ingenious and charming silliness. Back by popular demand, musician, eccentric inventor, and all-around nutty guy, Al Simmons, is once again bringing a big dose of daffy to the Kingston Symphony stage in a concert where slapstick comedy and general mayhem will reign supreme. A wizard of astounding gadgets and preposterous props, this concert will have you chuckling uncontrollably!

Meets the Hooded Fang

Poor Jacob Two-Two. Not only must he say everything twice to be heard over his older brothers and sisters, but he also finds himself the prisoner of the dreaded Hooded Fang. What did he do to deserve such a punishment? The worst crime of all – insulting a grown-up! Join the Kingston Symphony as we bring to life this classic tale by Mordecai Richler, with music by award-winning Canadian composer, Dean Burry, and text adapted by the author's son Jacob Richler – none other than Jacob Two-Two himself!
